FIFTEEN HOURS IS EXTENT OF HIS WOOING

Friend of Father Horgan in Sparks, an Old-time Railroad Man Now Rich in Tonopah, Falls in Love With pretty Face in Photograph

Paul T. Shelby, a friend of Father Horgan's, has set his friends in Tonopah to gissiping, for when he left his mining interests in the southern Nevada camp telling his fellows he would return with "the lady in the picture" for a bride, few believed him. But now word has reached Tonopah and Sparks that Shelby carried out the programme; he met the girl in the photograph for the first time in Oakland after inquiring her address; they loved at sight and were married at St. Mary's in San Francisco fifteen hours afterward.

Shelby has mining property near the Mizpah in Tonopah. He is called rich by friends there. Shelby is the son of an old time railroad man The girl in the case is Aimie Ernst of Alameda granddaughter of City Trustee Fritz Boehmer. Three months ago a friend of Miss Ernst sent a photograph to Shelby. When the mining man saw the picture he said he intended to wed the original. As quickly as he could arrange his business affairs he went to Alameda and was introduced to Miss Ernst by the girl who sent him the picture He asked the girl to be his wife and she consented The announcement of the engagement was made to the relatives of th girl and they were pleased.

Shelby and his wife are now touring southern California resorts. They will soon pass through Sparks on their way to the southern Nevada camp.

RAILROAD OFFICE MAY SOON BE ABOLISHED

Rumored in Sparks That Assistant Superintendency of Oregon Short Line in Ogden Will be Done Away With—Officials Resigned

The position of assistant division superintendent of the Oregon Short Line at Ogden may be abolished. As yet the position resigned by H. J. Roth has not been filled and it is probable that it will not be. C. H. Calland, chief clerk to Roth, and W. V. Cassidy, secretary to Roth, have taken other positions. Calland becomes agent for the Oregon Short Line in Ogden and Cassidy has secured the place of general passenger agent with the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake road.

To bear up the belief that the position occupied by Roth will be abolished, is the fact that J. M. Davis has been appointed assistant general superintendent of the Oregon Short Line at Salt Lake, a new position.

Mysterious Message Calls Father in Search of Son

J. H. Box arrived in Reno early Thursday morning and left again later the same morning for Tonopah, whither he is going in search of information of his son.

Box comes from Pawnee, Oklahoma, where, until the day after Christmas, his son, Claude Box, also resided, and worked with his father on their Oklahoma ranch Attracted by the Tonopah fight between Gans and Herman, the son, accompanied by his friend, Bert Mason, left Oklahoma for the southern mining camp, intending to see the fight On January 4th an ominous telegram was received by the father, which read "Come at once, trouble." The wire was signed Maude, but the telegraph operator in Pawnee told the agitated father that there was probably an incorrect reading of the name, and besides no one else in Tonopah knew of the father's Pawnee address. He was and is sure that in spite of the incorrect name signed to the wire, that it is from his son.

So he wired at once to Tonopah for more particulars. He sent a message to the chief of police, one to his boy's friend, Mason, and one to the son. But no answer from any source reached him, and that is why he is traveling to Tonopah to learn what is the matter. No letter from his son arrived at the Oklahoma home, and no tidings, direct or indirect, were received.

Arriving in Reno he consulted with several and was told that it is likely his son was implicated in a shooting scrape which was reported in the Goldfield papers. This news only served to agitate him the more and it was in an almost distracted mood that he left yesterday morning for Tonopah, armed with letters of introduction and credentials as to his standing and reputation in the far off town from which he comes.

A peculiar feature about the message sent him at Pawnee from Tonopah is the fact that the name signed "Maude," is the name of his boy's sweetheart in Oklahoma. At first the father thought she too, might have gone to Tonopah, so he hitched up his team and drove about twenty miles to the girl's home. Maude was there and so it was not from her that the sinister message, so mysterious and unexplained, was sent.

Telegraph operators say it would be easy, with some handwriting, to mistake "Claude" for "Maude," and that a slight difference in the ticking of the telegraph key might lead to the error. Anyway, J. H. Box feels sufficiently upset about the message and disturbed over the silence of his son to make his way through Reno from Oklahoma to Tonopah in order to solve the riddle

MERCHANTS TO BUILD RIVAL TELEGRAPH LINE

Realizing that the Western Union Telegraph Company charges a sum equal to ten per cent interest on $125,000 for the use of its wires during two hours a day for stock quotations and disgusted at the miserable service which the people of Nevada are subjected to, Captain J. B. Menardi of the Stock Exchange yesterday announced that a private line will be built by Reno people to San Francisco and extended to the Southern Nevada mining camps to meet a similar private wire out of Salt Lake In the morning $50,000 was pledged by resident of this city to finance the scheme and by night $125,000 was procured.

The plan was given impetus by the action of the San Francisco officials o fthe Western Union in charging the stock exchange, of which Menardi is president, twice as much for the stock quotations as the brokers are charged. Menardi ordered the discontinuance of the quotations, and prepared to get them from friendly brokers. But at yesterday's session of the exchange when the quotations were sent out for, notice was given the brokerage firms that if they allowed any one to carry away the prices they would be refused the use of the Western Union's wires.

School Teacher Murdered

BOISE, Idaho, Jan. 10.—Miss Irene Miller, a teacher in the public school and daughter of M. M. Miller of Salt Lake City, was shot and killed late last night by Prof. I. F. Couch, principal of her school, who immediately afterward committed suicide by sending a bullet into his own brain. The cause of the tragedy was a broken engagement in marriage.

TRAINS DELAYED INTO RENO FOR TEN HOURS

Extra west bound freight, Collins conductor, was wrecked last evening west of Boca, and one freight car, breaking from the train was ripped over the ties for several hundred feet, tearing up the track so that east bound traffic will be delayed for at least ten hours, said the railroad officials last night

No one was reported hurt, and the exact cause of the wreck was not known here or in Sparks last night. It is supposed that on account of the heavy snow which packed between the rails and then froze solid, the steel strips spread, causing one of the cars to leave the track. The damage done to the road, for a considerable distance is said to be very great, and the work of repairing is interferred with, somewhat by the deep snow and intense cold.

GOLDFIELD'S MINES QUICKLY START UP

GOLDFIELD, Jan. 10.—Scarcely had the announcement been made that the strike was over when scores of mine owners re-engaged their old hands and immediately among old hands and immediately began work, long before day-night.

Particularly was this noticeable among operators who had wet shafts and were anxious to once more get the pumps in working order.

NEVADA'S GREATEST "AD."-WRITER

Only a Country Merchant at Yerington, But Onto the Magic of "Ad" Writing Bigger Than a Wolf

(Special Correspondence Fitz-Mac)

YERINGTON, Nev., Jan. 10—Over $1,000,000 a day is spent for advertising in the United States and the highset paid literary talent in the country is engaged in the busines of writing advertisements. It is admitted all round that the United Staes leads the world in art of skillful and effective advertising. But Goldfield leads the United States—not in quantity of course but in skill and effectiveness. There isn't a hustling city or town in this country that couldn't make money by sending a delegation to Goldfield to study its advertising methods.

Skillful advertising is an art, and like any other art may be acquired by study and practice but some people seem to have an instinct for it—a native genius.

The Yerington Chamber of Commerce has a genius of that sort for its Secretary, an energetic young merchant named Dyer who has recently made a fortune in the great copper mines of the district. Picturesque and effective "ad." writing appears to be an instinct with him. He has lived in Yerington all his life and been "merchandising" since he was a boy Long ago he quietly got his hooks onto a lot of the neglected copper ground of the camp when it could be picked up at yellow-dog prices and the recent enormous advance has made him rich.

The great copper deposit at Yerington, is now being exploited on the most extensive scale, and his genius as an "ad" writer has probably contributed more than any other factor to fix clearly the identity of Yerington in the public mind as the camp that contains the greatest mine in Nevada—by long odds the greatest—the Nevada-Douglas, which covers Douglas Hill, a little mountain of copper ore.

He originated the fetching and memorable advertising phrase or expression—"Yerington is the only camp east of California where the honest and intelligent American miner can hit a drill with one hand and pick peaches from the bought with the other."

That is a capital "ad" phrase for two reasons, first because it is memorable, and second because it is true. The intelligent miner can dot it—if his arms are long enough. But the peach orchards are down in the beautiful and fruitful Walker river valley three miles from the great copper mines.

The clever little skit is near enough to the truth however and it takes a grip on the imagination of miners in desert camps where water costs $7 a barrel and where an honest miner never gets a taste of fresh fruit.

That little phrase follows the line of all the best advertising that is, or ever was, or ever will be written—it creates a picture in the mind of every reader instantly, and the picture is pleasant and memorable and substantially true. Every miner or prospector throughout the thirst-haunted deserts of Nevada who sees that phrase will have Yerington fixed indelibly in his memory, and he'll want to go to such a pleasant camp if he read everything he sees about it.

That's the kind of advertising that counts—the kind that appeals to the imagination and makes a place for itself in the memory.

But of course the story must be true or every man who finds himself misled will be in a rage and give the camp the black eye.

The Secretary of the Yerinton Chamber of Commerce has the rare and ready wit for advertising—the instinct to turn everything to acount. The other day he received a letter from the San Francisco sporting fraternity offering to get up a prizefight at Yerrington that, as an "ad" for the camp, would, they asserted, "knock the stuffin' out of the mill that Tex Rickard has promised to pull off at Ely next spring." The letter ended thus: "Just wire what your Chamber of Ceommerce will put up for the event and we will come over and arrange details. The event will be worth millions to your camp as an advertisement. Don't forget that. All the Nevada camps are having them—look at Goldfield and Tonopah and Bullfrog and Ely. This is Yerington's great chance Just say what your Chamber of Commerce will put up for us and wire answer at our expense."

Secretary Dyer, of course, brought the matter before the Chamber of Commerce and was promptly instructed to "turn the ruffians down cold. We don't want that sort of thing here," so he sent the following dispatch:

"Answering letter have to say: Nixy, most emphatic. Nothing doing in your line in this camp. Only thing Chamber Commerce put up for prize fight is jail with iron-clad guarantee of bread and water for thirty days. Yerington greatest copper camp in Nevada—got the biggest mine in the state, the Nevada-Douglas. Don't forget the name. Lot of other big mines too. Got biggest river in Nevada and finest farm and fruit country. Got Ely skinned a mile for ore but no ambition to dispute her claim to being the toughest camp. Yerington not doing any mining to speak of above ground, anyway, and folks here think scandalous notoriety not good advertising. Got mountains of copper and going after it on the square, hot and heavy. Greatest opportunities. Glad hand to all honest miners and prospectors. Marble heart for all brands of flim-flammers. This dispatch not confidential. Pass it up to your local papers for public information and Yerington will remember you in her prayers. (Signed) E. A. Dyer, Secretary.

"There!" he said, reading me his long dispatch to the San Francisco sports. I like to see a good boxing match, myself, as well as anybody, but that flim-flam style of advertising a mining camp is played out. Scandalous notoriety isn't good advertising, anyway."

And I think he is right about it. It degrades the tone of the mining industry and makes outside people think that Nevada must be populated exclusively by toughs and flim-flammers. And that isn't a reputation that will help a camp which is trying to enlist capital for development. Fitz-Mac.

'UNDER SOUTHERN SKIES' AT M'KISSICKS

That "Under Southern Skies" was written by a woman is evident from the first to the last line, says the Los Angeles Hedald of December 24th. It is a Southern story of a heart. Love, yearning, hope, shine through the text with the fire and fervor that woman alone can pen. It is to the Southland what "Way Down East" is to New England. Both plays are the creations of Lottie Plair Parker.

And while these kind words may truthfully be said of the author, the company which is his week rendering this opera at the Grand opera house deserves all the praise that has been showered upon it. It is a play and a staging, language and feeling and because of its fidelity to that section and to a life now fading away its popularity never seems to wane.

Love for a woman sometimes makes villains of men. It does so for Steve Daubney, who, rather than see Lelia Crofton marry Burleigh Mavor, betrays to her the shame of her mother, hitherto kept a secret. By his betrayal he wins her promise to wed and fractures his promise o her father never to break the sad news to her. When the wedding ceremony is in progress the mother of the bride breaks in on the scene and dashes the villainous young man's hopes to the ground.

In Louisiana in the '70s men were quick with their pistols. They are quick in their reply. Colonel Mavor, newspaper owner and father of the apparently jilted young man, and Colonel Daubney, father of the apparently favored one, are bitter enemies over a newspaper editorial and their efforts to preserve the rules of hospitality by burying their differences while guests by Lelia's father are interesting.

While the serious love affair is going on he minister too has a case of heartburn with one of the damsels and their courting gives opportunity for laughter.

Mrs. Parker has woven the Hallowe'en story into the play in charming fashion. The witch superstitions are shown as the young women come with candles and mirrors repeating the words that conceal their hearts' longings. The spectator is transported to the ways of the old time festivities when girls really believed in the prophecies of that sacred night in October. Once in holding a mirror in front of her to learn her fate poor Lelia finds that both Steve and Burleigh have edged toward her and she sees the dual reflections of her future "husband."

Thus the love story progresses, the poor girl suspecting that there is a negro taint in her blood because of vague insinuations by Steve, and sacrificing herself for her family's sake and the father living in memory's halls with the vision of a wife who erred always looming up before him

Fortunately the story ends happily and right is triumphant.

The pathos is relievd by the work of Anner Lizer, a diminuitive colored "gal," who is a sure-enough Topsy in her devilment. She dances and cuts up for four acts and keeps the audience roaring. Millie Evans is the bright young woman who fills the role. Uncle Joshaway and Aunt Doshey, another black couple, also sustain the humor. J. T. Gallagher and Miss Anne Mortimer fill these parts.

The work of John T. Burke as the suffering father, Colonel Crofton; Frederick E. Mortimer as Colonel Robert Mavor, the newspaper publisher, and Harry Linsen as Colonel Daubney, the other fire-eater, are true to the southern colonel requirements. Roy Phillips and Robert Dudley are the two who court Miss Lelia, Phillips having the role of the defeated suitor who afterwards wins.

The women's characters are in competent hands, though not as much so as the men's. Miss Laura Oakman plays Lelia and makes a charming southern girl, full of pride, love and filial regard.

"Under Southern Skies" will be presented at McKissick's opera house on Saturday and Sunday nights, January 12th and 13th.

PIOCHE WILL HAVE A RAILROAD SOON

Promise of Railroad Connection Has Greatly Stimulated Mining Operations in This Camp and Many Properties are Starting Work.

Within a few days construction on the Salt Lake Route branch from Caliente to Pioche will commence. For weeks the Clark road has been unloading rails, ties and other material at Caliente, and there is now sufficient stock on hand to build twenty-eight of the forty miles of track. Construction work has been held back until sufficient material was on hand so that when it did begin there would be no hindrance to progress because of lack of material.

It has been assumed that an old grade, built years ago, was to be used, but it is understood now that it is to be abandoned, and a new line is being run, which gives an easy grade. This is considered more practical from every point, but especially because of the heavy tonnage which will come out of the famous camp.

Pioche has waited long and patiently for railroad facilities. Ore was hauled by wagon to market, but this method was so costly that it was only the mines producing high grade ore that could afford to employ it. When the richest ore had been extracted shipping practically ceased but preparations are being made to resume the active operation of many mines now that cheap and quick transportation is assured. Hence the old camp of the seventies is taking on new life, and indications are that every expectation of its renewed productiveness will be realized.

ONE OF NEVADA'S REMARKABLE MINES

Nevada Hills, at Fairview Has Actually Shipped Her $40,000 Car of Ore and Is Honestly Entitled to Be Called a Big Proposition.

We have heard so much of the several sensational mines in Nevada that we are constantly before the public, and we witness such enthusiasm about the Mohawk, Jack Pot, Combination Fraction and one or two others, that we are constrained to marvel why the same enthusiasm is not engendered when the facts are published concerning a really great mine. Combination Fraction is great, Jack Pot is greater and Mohawk is the climax of all, if we are to be guided by public opinion; yet The News is willing to declare that Fairview has a mine that is destined to bring about a total eclipse in the mining world, and the glory of the Mohawk star and its sattelites is doomed to fade away before the greater brilliancy of Nevada Hills; before another Christmas shall be celebrated Fairview's first-born shall be crowned king, and he who would seek to revive the glory of the Mohawk mu t look into the shadows of the past to behold its light, like the astronomer who retires to the bottom of the well at high noon in order that he may behold the stars that are eclipsed by the brightness of the sun.

The newspapers are filled with reports about mines that are going to ship $50,000 cars of ore; Nevada Hills has shipped her $40,000 car. It has reached the smelter long ago, and the returns have been converted into dividends that have reached the Christmas stockings of the stockholders. While we have shown the Missourians, we can go further and say that at the mines are several thousand sacks of ore that make one dizzy to contemplate their value. One carload is ready for shipment that will run more than $50,000 gross. This can be said without fear of contradiction, because the smelter record of Fairview backs us up in our statements. What we have done we can do again.

There has been considerable noise made about a mine that has produced $500 for every foot of the shaft that is being sunk on the property. Why, my dear sir! Retire to the extreme rear and assume a reclining position, in order that you may stand the shock of what we shall state here as a fact: In the winze now being sunk in tunnel No. 2 of Nevada Hills $5,000 worth of ore has been sacked for every foot of depth. This is history in Fairview, as well as a fact of the present, for they are still sacking the same values.

NOTED MEN FIND MINE IN SOUTHERN NEVADA

One of the greatest strikes yet encountered in Death Valley was made a few days ago on the Major Harrison mine, just across the boundary of Esmeralda county.

The company owning the property is composed of ex-Senator John P. Jones, president; Major D. B. Harrison, Judge Belford, of Denver; Rear Admiral McCalla, Louis E. Whicher of Ball & Wicher, bankers of New York city.

A body of ore has been struck averaging $783 per ton in gold and silver. Across six feet of ledge in the bottom of the working shaft at a depth of fifty feet horn silver and gold in great flakes are plainly discernable in all the material brought back by the party which has just returned to Goldfield. Some of the specimens will run up into the thousands but the average value, throughout the entire ledge is nearly $800 to the ton.

The strike has caused considerable excitement and a flock of prospectors are crowding into the north end of the valley.

The Major Harrison mine is situated about eight miles from Thorp and within easy access to the railroad Ideal conditions prevail for mining; timber and water are plentiful; the mine is located on a line with the New Salt Lake railroad and close to the proposed Borax Smith road now in course of construction.

GOLD AND SILVER IN ZENOLI MINE

Limited Development Work Has Disclosed Large Bodies of High Grade Silver and Gold Ores in Property Near Palisade

It would seem that every mining district in Nevada in which legitimate development work has been prosecuted that the results are a disclosure of ore in merchantable quality and quantity, and it is always gratifying to note that mining corporations intend making shipments within a reasonable time.

The Zenoli mining company, whose property is located near Palisade was located last year and yet on a recent examination by Manager Delmas of Salt Lake City the result of operations demonstrates that there is a large amount of shipping ore now actually blocked out in the mine. This corporation is controlled by Salt Lake people and work has advanced in their usual aggressive way. As a matter of fact a great many active Salt Lake men have invaded Nevada's mineral field and it is now proper to say are meeting with their proverbial good luck.

The greater part of the ore in sight in this property is of shipping grade and in one drift there is four feet of ore which carries over 600 ounces in silver. The shoots are all in ore and every arrangement has been made for the rapid and economical handling of the product. It is said there is between 8,000 and 9,000 tons of high grade shipping material awaiting disposition and is ore, in value, runs from 90 to 400 ounces in silver per ton, while the management intends at this time to ship only one car of ore each day, if ore which carries values of 40 ounces in silver per ton be included, easily 50 tons could be shipped per day.

A sensational strike is reported on the Finnegar lease on the Old Dutchman mine in Walker Lake district. The ore is said to carry values of $10,000 per ton.

In Paradise Valley north of Winnemucca, a copper property which is being exploited by C. D. Van Zant has a shaft down nearly 100 feet and in the bottom there is opened up a four foot v in which carries 40 per cent copper.

Recently J. C. Sevier, representing Oddie and Chaffey, of Goldfield has had a force of men at work examining the old Paradise mines at Spring City. Over a ton of samples was taken and if results are satisfactory this old property will again be opened. This mine has a record production of $3,000,000.

The Lovelock Tribune says that last week an expert representing Charles M. Schwab visited Seven Troughs and the mining magnate may invest in that rich district. In company with Joseph Hill, Schwab's representative examined the Theirin-Borland group, on which Messrs Hill and Howard have an option.

Seven Troughs district has made its first shipment of ore fro mthe Ivors claim. Before shipment this ore was very carefully sampled an dshows general average values of $400 per ton. The streak in the vein which carries this rich ore is 14 inches wide but the milling values of the vein is about 5 feet in width.

Phil Blume, discoverer of the Brown Palace group at Rosebud, which property is under bond to the Schwab interests, states that work will be started on company account about the 15th of this month. This property is the one on which there is a bonanza showing of ruby silver ore and it is the best kind of news for the camp that the owners are to begin development on what promises to become one of the state's greatest mines.

Another rich strike was made in Wonder last Thursday when H. J. Warren uncovered a seam of almost pure gold on his lease on the Bluejay claim No. 3. The strike was made at the foot of an incline shaft about 60 feet from the surface. The vein is nearly flat and the rich seam of gold was found in a vertical up-shoot in a contact of porphyry and soft rhyolite. The stringer is about 4 inches wide and carries values running better than $18,000 to the ton. The formation in which the greatest values were found is so soft that it was impossible to take out any large prices.

In Dyke district, which is about 100 miles north of Winnemucca a great deal of work is being done notwithstanding the fact that the weather has been very unfavorable. Some very high grade ore was recently uncovered in a tunnel which is being advanced by Johnson & Van Deren. The ore shows much free gold in the pan. A number of properties in this district are very promising and it is very probable that as soon as the weather permits a rush will be on to this new field, for without doubt Dyke district has a sufficient surface showing to warrant the belief that richer and stronger ore bodies will be encountered at depth.

During the last two months of the old year there have been turned out of the Murray smelting plant of the American Smelting and Refining Company, almost $4,000,000 in gold bullion. Such a large record was never made in the past. Most of this gold came from Nevada's mines, and the greater part from the vicinity of Goldfield and Tonopah. It represented several months' accumulation of small high grade consignments from these districts and also many carloads of just ordinary $100,-a-ton ore that is characteristic of the Goldfield district especially. Nevada has been sending to Salt Lake more ore during the last three months than ever before. Until a comparatively recent date most of the Goldfield high grades were forwarded to the Globe plant of the American Smelting and Refining Company of Denver. As Goldfield properties have attained more depth, however, the character of ores has been more favorably handled in the Murray plan near Salt Lake.

One of the interesting features of the past year has been the aggressive policy and growing business of the United States Smelting, Refining and Mining Company, which bought an important group of mines at Pachuca, Mexico, and secured control of the old Richmond and Eureka mines at Eureka, Nevada, besides conducting a mining and smelting business at Bingham Utah, and in Shasta county, California, with refineries in New Jersey and Indiana. While appreciating the skill and integrity of the Guggenheim family, we regret to see their tendency to monopolize the smelting business and we welcome the growth of substantial competition. Such competition is undoubtedly beneficial to all concerned, and more especially to the owners of the small mines, who in these days have good cause to be restive at the restricted market for their ore. Healthy rivalry between two large smelting corporations would be an admirable tonic for the mining industry.

Do you wish to raise capital by selling some of your shares of stock

Do you want to be represented in the EAST and secure a service that will be far superior to a self-maintained eastern branch office for about one-half what respectable desk room would cost you, besides being absolutely guaranteed against losses usually sustained through agents' errors and other irregularities?

If you are represented by a sound financial and well-known eastern GUARANTY COMPANY, greater confidence is stimulated by affording the public a knowledge of the validity of the shares offered and an absolute guarantee against irregular and over-issues.

I invite your correspondence and inquiry concerning the EASTERN service I have to offer.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Bossism in San Francisco

CHRIS Buckley once the political boss of San Francisco has been talking for publication and has unhesitatingly denounced the present government of that city as the worst it has ever had Of course he is right He declares that the Democratic party gave San Francisco the best management that its affairs ever received The he is right too

There have been worse men in the world than Buckley He is out of it altogether now and no suspicion of interestedness can attach to the newspaper that declares him to be correct in his views He was absolute boss of the big city and yet it was administered more economically than any ordinary business house is Under his control the recorder's office for instance paid a revenue to the city for the first time in thirty-eight years The county clerk's office was self-supporting The sheriff's office was free from distrust It is true that he had nothing directly to do with the police force but he had great influence in the appointment of patrolmen and yet there was no police scandal

The truth is that in the sense that Abraham Ruef is boss Buckley was not a boss Ruef is something after the Alcibiades type of demagogue He is an educated man and we know him well enough personally to think that the Athenian is his model as well as his prototype Buckley's model was the American political boss—something sui generis Buckley was simply the personal controller of the greatest number of votes within the ranks of the Democratic party in San Francisco He was the product of a large city as James Bryce shows in his "American Commonwealth" He was no better than the men whom he controlled and no worse In short, he was one of them He was however an American citizen and as certainly did see that the men who owed their nomination and election to him should behave themselves

But was have bossism at all? If the people would follow out the true principles of the Democratic party there would be no bossism. The people themselves would direct affairs, as they did when Buckley was in control in San Francisco, the proof of which lies in the fact that they took away his power as soon as they became dissatisfied with it. We will say, however, that their dissatisfaction with him was factitious and was promoted by others who were only politicians, the same as he was—James D Phelan for example, who, although a millionaire and a man of broad education, surrounded himself when he attained power, by men who were no better, from the point of view of a democratic republic, than the men whom they displaced They were better educated—that was all, they were no better servants of the people But they were infinitely superior in their service to the crew of rascals that the Republicans of San Francisco have now placed in office

The Democratic party has its faults We are candid about that because we want to be fair But the faults of the Democracy are American faults The Republicans' are those of the old world—children of the caste system and "graft"

A Clerical Buffoon

IMAGINE a state senate convulsed with laughter at the prayer of its chaplain That is what happened in California on Wednesday, according to the report in the Sacramento Bee which can be relied upon as accurate, because the Bee is nothing if not truthful

This chaplain, a man of the name of Darling, asked the Diety for a special dispensation for the Democratic minority

It is such sacrilegious performances that bring not only the cloth, but all religion, into disrespect It was rank profanity and not a member of that senate could have left the chamber after hearing such a prayer without a distinct lowering of his regard for those sacred things that he had been taught to respect We expect, we demand, dignity in ministers of the gospel and a clerical clown is so repugnant to all ideas of decency that he should be unfrocked.

The Democratic minority in California is composed, doubtless, of God-fearing men, good and patriotic citizens The chaplain's prayer, therefore, was unquestionably not intended to display any solicitude on his part for their spiritual welfare, but to testify his gratitude for political favors to the Republicans by whose gracious kindness he was drawing $5 a day from the state of California It was a studied exhibition of profanity as well as extremely bad taste

We know many of the Republican leaders in California They are religious men and we shall be surprised, indeed, if they do not see that Chaplain Darling is severely rebuked.

The Comstock Lode

THE Territorial Enterprise is right when it says that no text-book of chemistry should be used in the public schools of Nevada that gives publicity to such an obviously false statement as that the Comstock Lode is worked out The Comstock mines will be working a hundred years hence" say the Enterprise Right again Make it more

The tin mines of Cornwall were practically abandoned in some instances a few decades ago because they were said to be worked out To day they are producing ore at a profit and not only that, but the undeveloped copper resources of the Ancient Duchy are now receiving attention

So the Comstock needs have no fear A chemical text-book cannot take away the unimaginable wealth of that celebrated section any more than it can destroy the famous Mother Lode of California

The Comstock Lode is practically an unexplored metalliferous world still Who has ever found its boundaries? The millions, yes billions, that remain within the earthern treasury of which old Mount Davidson is the eternal guardian will supply fortunes to the descendants of the present inhabitants of the globe for untold centuries

This company has a lease on the Moonshine claim of the Gold Horn Mining Company's ground, 300 feet by 600 feet and has a full two years lease.

The ground adjoins the St. Ives and the Velvet, both splendid properties.

The lease has been pronounced by several of the best mining men of the state to be one of the choicest pieces of ground in the district.

FIRST ISSUE OF STOCK ALMOST GONE

The first issue of 100,000 shares at 15 cents is going rapidly and we expect to have it more than filled this week. No more will be issued at this price after the 100,000 is sold. Over half the issue is already placed and we have advertised it but five days.

WHY WE DO IT!

We have been asked why we put the stock out at so low a price. The reason is that the money is going into the ground and not into broker's commissions. And also that we consider this as a fitting introduction of the new firm for we confidently predict that this stock will be a dividend payer inside of six months. If we did not expect this we should certainly not put it out, as we are doing, under agreement to protect the price.

NOW!

Any subscriber to the stock of the Gold Horn Leasing Company may return the stock to the company's offices at any time before the 10th day of February and have his money refunded should the proposition not prove satisfactory after investigation.

Make our office your headquarters. Any information that we may have will be cheerfully given you upon application.

SPECIAL WIRE QUOTATIONS DAILY

We do a general brokerage business and are here to treat you right. Give us a call.
